Brianna Olive and Heart Initiative

Have you ever heard of

Brianna Olive (left) is founder and president of a student club that promotes breast and heart health.

Olive has taken the lead in spreading the message about the benefits of early detection of breast cancer and heart disease, and a healthy lifestyle. In the face of lack of interest by some local community residents, she has persevered because she knows she is doing life-saving work. And she has heard the expressions of gratitude from many.
